SATURDAY, MARCH 20, 1897.

Since the release of Mrs. Walter M. Castle there has been an alarming increase of "kleptomaniacs" in the west end of London. One leading storekeeper, disgusted at having no protection from the authorities, took the law into his own hands. He caught a well-to-do lady stealing in his store several times. Finally, he took her to his private office, where he gave her the choice of arrest or a sound thrashing. She chose passing under the rod and the merchant's sister, manageress of the store, belabored the gentle thief with a birch until she howled for mercy and swore she would steal no more.

Honolulu has reason to be proud of the Iron Works bearing its name. Constant development and progress have been the aim of their successive managements for many years. Nothing but the most advanced and efficient machinery and labor-saving appliances will do there. The Honolulu Iron Works have long been at the head of industrial enterprise in this city, and bid fair to continue so for an indefinite period.

One of the fresh causes for discontent among the Uitlanders of the Transvaal is the passage of a law by the Volksraad, making it competent for itself to pass laws overriding decisions of the courts. The foreign press is furious, and even Dutch papers call a halt on such legislation. It makes an end of the security of property.

Hilo streets are to be swept and the sweepings used as fertilizer. The climate must have changed there, the rain going not to Spain but to Oahu. It has been usual in Hilo that, in the few hours' intervals between freshets, not even patriarch feed could be gathered off the streets.

Whist has taken such a hold on Hilo that it will not be surprising to hear of sermons by the local preachers on such topics as "Leads," the "Call and Echo," etc.

THE HEALANI FOREVER.

After the Ball Impressions by a Lady Guest.

The following sketch has been handed in by a lady guest of the Healani Yacht and Boat Club last night:

How it all comes back to me this morning, "after the ball," and yet the old interrogatory remains unanswered. Which gives us the most pleasure—Anticipation, Participation or Retrospection? On the auspicious evening of March nineteenth, 1897, young hearts bounded over anticipated joys. The Healani Boat Club hung out its beacon light, and pleasure seekers flocked to the harbor to dance under its welcoming beams. The Kawaiian quintette were seated for business and the pleasure of participation commenced. Are we being "Rocked in the cradle of the deep?" Not quite. 'Tis only the gentle swaying of the boathouse as light feet touch the waxed floor to the rhythm of the "two-step." Even inanimate boards must vibrate as the soul within them gives response to the sound of such sweet music. Though the walls of Jericho fell with great shouts and sounds of trumpets when the right chord was struck, the Healani boathouse remains intact and the lunar rainbow set in the midnight heavens promises many future revels under clear, island skies. As we sit on the spacious veranda and watch the dancers and listen to the melodious strains of earth floating out and up, to join in the music of the spheres, we wonder if it is true, what poets and dreamers tell us, that heaven is round about us. Certainly a little patch of it has found adhesiveness on Oahu as the full moon looks down in sympathy with our yearnings after happiness, on this March night.

I began with retrospection and a query. Whatever the mystery still remaining over the three words that represent the sum of daily life, the fact is plain that the Healani is a success and their entertainments leave us with pleasant memories. KELA.

JUDICIAL JOTTINGS.

Hilo Cases Before the Supreme Court—Matters at Chambers.

Following are the cases before the Supreme Court this morning: S. Takemori vs. U. Kanai, damages for malicious prosecution. Appeal of plaintiff from Fourth Circuit. Wise for plaintiff; Little for defendant. Argued and submitted.

J. R. Wilson vs. L. A. Andrews. Appeal of plaintiff from Fourth Circuit. Motion of defendant to dismiss appeal. Little for plaintiff; Wise for defendant. Wilson sued for the recovery of $25 from Sheriff Andrews of Hawaii out of $130.20 attached for debt in a suit of Captain Rosehill against Bevan Montague, manager of the Montague-Faust circus. He claims he had obtained judgment in the District Court prior to that in Rosehill's suit. Partly argued when the Court adjourned at 12 m. to 10 o'clock Monday morning.

Judge Perry heard the motion of plaintiff for a decree in the case of Peter High & Co. vs. Francis Dunn and E. H. F. Wolter, on judgment dismissing plaintiffs' bill in equity. The motion was made by plaintiffs because defendants had not prepared a decree, and in equity an appeal cannot be taken from a decision but from a decree. Mr. Davis for defendants opposed the motion, but Judge Perry granted it, thus giving plaintiffs a standing in the Supreme Court on their appeal. Kinney & Ballou for plaintiffs.

In the case of the Republic of Hawaii vs. J. M. Vivas and others, conductors of a Portuguese paper, Deputy Attorney General Dole has filed a certificate declining to prosecute. The prosecutors of the libel were C. Ferreira and others, who conducted a rival paper. They had won a civil suit against defendants, and under a peaceful compromise the controversy is now all settled.

NOTES FROM HAWAII.

Activity in Building Operations—New Bridges.

Payson Caldwell, formerly editor of the Tribune, and his wife will leave Hilo on the first sailing vessel.

The new steel bridge across Honoumulehu gulch is completed, and Manager Ross and his wife were among the first to drive across it. The bridge across Kawaiunui gulch was started Monday week and the abutments for the bridge across Kapehu gulch, between Pepeekeo and Honoumulehu, is well under way.

J. W. Butler, of the J. W. Butler Paper Company, Chicago, a volcano tourist, says if there was a cable to the Coast, and a little swifter ocean carriage, Hawaii would be sought by those desiring to avoid the rigors of winter from all over the world. If Hawaii had a cable he would become a coffee planter and spend six months of every year on the island, and most likely twelve months.

Every team in Hilo is working from early morn till late, hauling sand, rock, cement, lime, lumber, hardware, roofing iron, to all portions of the town, and buildings are going up on every block.

What is the matter with that man? a Tribune localist writes. I have seen him in all the four ends of Hilo within the past hour. He is a stranger in town trying to find a vacant house to move into. Last night he rented a mango tree but that has since been secured on a long lease and he is again on the hunt.

J. P. Amari is now working at the 15th mile on the new Puna road. He also starts a gang of men to work on the last mile of his contract, working from Pahoa towards Hilo.

Officers of the Monday Evening Whist Club newly elected are: President, Mrs. John A. Scott; vice-president, Mrs. Charles Furneaux; secretary and treasurer, Mr. Lewis Turner.

Mr. Fulcher's projected new store at Olua will be 24 feet front by 60 feet deep.

W. A. Hardy & Co. now own and operate the soda works that used to be Hobson's.

A Kona correspondent of the Tribune writes: Everything in Kona points to prosperity with the men who have put their money there, but there is one thing about which they kick. The Government appropriated money for a new road, from Maguire's to Hokena, a point 40 miles south. The road is being built, but only 16 feet, instead of 20 wide, as it should be. The contracts have been let, and sublet until the work is in the hands of people who know nothing about road building. There can be no good come out of this, and in six months or a year from now the Government will have to spend a lot of money doing the work over again. There seems to be no supervision on the part of the Government representatives, and the result will be a hit or miss road.

Regarding road building north of Hilo town, the Tribune is informed that work that was being prosecuted under the management of Mr. Ross at a cost to the Government of $1.80 a foot has been stopped and a band of Japanese put to work under day work at 75 cents a day, and 333 days' work is to be paid for each 100 feet of road constructed, which is $2.50 a foot, as against $1.80. And, furthermore, the amount of this contract is $750 and its letting is in violation of the law, which limits such piece work to $500 and under.

Give me a glass of beer, it comes but once a year, said the thirsty man to the bar tender. We don't keep it on tap. Said the mixer, looking flat, But to the Anchor I will send you.

Now on tap at this favorite resort.

"TRIBUNE" 1897 WHEELS, ETC., ETC.

We have just received our 1897 TRIBUNE WHEELS and invite inspection. We have them both for LADIES and GENTS and we have plenty of them on hand and more on the way.

The '97 Tribune is an improvement over its predecessors and is second to none. Among the changes made we might mention the increase of the upper frame tube to 1-8 in., and the adoption of one inch tubular seat post, secured by clamp, retaining otherwise the same form of forging into which the rear tubes are brazed. The crank fastening is also improved, and secured more positively by the use of a small key instead of clamp screw; the matched corrugations of the shaft and crank are retained.

We are selling '97 Tribunes at $110.

For a good, strong, durable wheel for every day use we have the "STORMER." It is a cheap wheel for the money and will be found quite as serviceable as some of the higher priced ones. It is the '97 pattern and has all the late improvements.

We also have a few "ZIMMY" wheels on hand, which we are closing out at $45. They are cheap at double the money.

We carry a full line of bicycle sundries of all kinds, such as wooden handle bars, shoes, pumps, etc., at reduced prices.

Yielding to a universal demand, I have again inaugurated a series of my Popular Watch Clubs.

Most of you are acquainted with the mode of procedure, but to those who are not, we would explain, that it is a plan devised, whereby you get a Fine Solid Gold Watch, of recognized value, by paying a weekly sum of

ONE : DOLLAR.

It is of especial value to those who could not afford the entire amount in one payment, and appeals to those who do not care for the Dollar it costs them every week.

It took less than one week to fill one club complete, and one half of a second club. This alone is sufficient guarantee of its popularity, and of the confidence placed upon the reliability of those in charge. Club number one draws today.

Club number two will be full before the next week is out. Each day adds from one to two dozen names to the list.

Will you be one to join this coming week.
